'Best place to visit in Stratford'

WHERE WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE WAS INSPIRED TO BECOME THE WORLD'S GREATEST PLAYWRIGHT

'Hidden Jewel...if you're coming to Stratford, this is a must'

'...incredibly memorable ...one of my best travel experiences ever.'

'A delightful surprise...Go, Go, Go!'

Immerse yourself in sixteenth century Stratford-upon-Avon to explore the very room where William Shakespeare sat as a pupil in the 1570s and the space where he first saw plays performed by the country's greatest actors of the day.

-  Join a Tudor lesson with Master Thomas Jenkins.
-  Hear the many stories the building has to tell from our award-winning, welcoming and informative guides.
-  Soak up the atmosphere of the medieval Priest's Chapel and marvel at the wall paintings.
-  Dress up in Tudor clothes and learn to write with a quill.
-  Whether a lifelong Shakespeare enthusiast or new to his enduring legacy, this authentic experience brings to life the story of young William.

'So glad we visited. Enthusiastic, knowledgeable and friendly staff made our visit memorable!'
